

'Procedural error' voids school bond election

By Leslie Williams
Voter approval of the $3.4 million Hancock County School bond issue appears moot under an opinion issued Wednesday by Attorney Joseph Benvenutti of the county's Election Commission.
Benvenutti said under the law, the bond issue proposal was improperly advertised prior to election day, rendering any voter decision void.
As a result, the Hancock County School Board agreed Wednesday to seek a second election.
"A state law requires the Hancock County Board of Supervisors to void the $3.5 million school bond issue election," Benvenutti told county school board members at a meeting Wednesday with Walter Gex, attorney for the county board of supervisors.

The board of supervisors will formally determine Monday whether or not the school bond issue election should be voided.
Benvenutti discovered that a state law voids the election after he researched claims by Pass Christian Attorney C. Randall Jones who is contesting legality of the election.
Jones represents a group of Hancock County electors who are opposed to passage of the school bond issue proposal.
"The school bond issue did not comply to a state law which should have been met prior to the election," intoned Benvenutti.
"The Mississippi Code states an announcement of the election must be published in the county newspaper not more than seven days prior to an election," the election commission attorney explained.
Announcements of the election were published in the Sea Coast Echo Oct. 12, 19, and 26. The election was Nov. 7.
"For the election to have met the requirement of the Mississippi Code, the bond issue proposal would have had to have been published in the Sea Coast Echo on Nov. 2; thereby the election, according to the state law, is void," said Benvenutti.
Nov. 2 is the last date for the advertisement of the election to be published if it is to meet requirements of the law, since the paper is published on Thursdays and Sundays only.
"The Mississippi Code also states," added Benvenutti, "the notice, or publication shall be signed by the clerk of the board of supervisors."

Hancock School Board President Woodrow Laddner asked Benvenutti if that meant John D. Rutherford, clerk of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors was responsible for publishing the announcement not more than seven days before the election.
"Yes," replied Benvenutti, "according to the state law."
But Walter Gex, attorney for the board of supervisors, said he was responsible.
"Practically and technically I am responsible for the bond issue not being published when it should have been," admitted Gex, "I am accept all responsibility for the mistake."
"The bond issue election not being published on time was a procedural error," explained the attorney.
Gex used the Hancock County Board of Supervisors 1974 minutes to prepare the time schedule for determining publication dates.

But in those minutes, an error was committed in transcribing the preliminary publication steps which must be implemented before an election.
According to the minutes, notice of the election should have been published not 'less' than 7 days prior to the election.
But the Mississippi Code states, such an election notice must be published not 'more' than 7 days.
Both the minutes and the code state the information concerning the elections must be published in the county newspaper. If there is no newspaper, three public sites should be used to publicize the event.

Gex used the minutes of the board of supervisors to prepare the time table for advertisements of the election, said Benvenutti.
"This is $3.5 million mistake error," said Hancock County School Superintendent Terrell Randolph.
School Board members agreed to prepare a resolution asking the supervisors to call a second election on the bond issue proposal.
Benvenutti said the school board is not to be blamed if the board of supervisors void the school bond issue election Monday.
Benvenutti said C. Randall Jones raised three questions surrounding passage of the bond issue.
Jones contends there were illegal and

The Bay St. Louis Police Department is sponsoring a 'Salute to Elvis' concert at 8 p.m. tonight at the National Guard Armory on Longfellow Road.
The concert will feature Charlie Raye, an Elvis impersonator and Lincoln County, a band from Hattiesburg.
Lincoln County has performed as a back-up band at the University of Southern Mississippi on several occasions, and is scheduled to perform with Brenda Lee at the Mississippi Gulf Coast Coliseum on Dec. 5. The group plays country music combined with interludes of comedy.
Bay St. Louis Assistant Police Chief Frank Hess, event chairman, said proceeds from the concert will be used

Randolph presses for policy

Hancock schools among first to ban social promotions

By RICH ADAMS
The Hancock County School Board Monday adopted a promotion and retention policy prohibiting social advancement, making the district one of the first school systems in the state to adopt such a plan.
The Board action will prohibit advancement to a higher grade for social reasons, according to Hancock County Schools Superintendent Terry Randolph.
The new policy adopted at a recess meeting will prohibit promotion of any child in grades one through four to the next higher grade if that child has not mastered the appropriate skills to be promoted.
The policy will be progressive over a period of eight years to eventually include grades one to twelve at the end of the eight-year period.

The retention program excludes children who have been evaluated, screened and placed in special education programs.
"Social promotions are an injustice to the child, parent, his community, and the country as a whole," Randolph said.
"Our job is to prepare a student for life, and life is competition. Everything we do is competitive. Passing grades given to a student who is not achieving is telling the child competition doesn't exist and would more than likely continue to think he would get handouts the rest of his life," he continued.
"Today, perhaps more than any other period in time, the public is demanding public schools to produce demon-

Compretta to pre-file severance tax changes

By ELLIS CUEVAS
State Representative J. P. Compretta of Hancock County reports he will pre-file at this time three bills for the upcoming session of the Legislature.
The Legislature will convene Jan. 2 for a regular 90 day session.
One of the bills deals with liability car insurance; another with sales tax on interest; and the third with severance tax returned to counties on gas and oil.
The severance tax bill to be pre-filed will be cosponsored by Representative James Price of Jasper and Clarke Counties.
Compretta, in talking about the cosponsored bill said, "Since Hancock County has oil and gas production, the bill could mean a big revenue increase for the county."
The proposal calls for a change from the state retaining 50 percent of severance revenues for the support of the minimum education program and the other 50 percent to the county, to only 25 percent going to the state and the 75 percent going to the county.

Compretta was requested by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors

Santa arrives Sunday

Santa Claus will arrive in Bay St. Louis Sunday at 4:30 p.m. at the US-90 Service Road and the foot of the Bay St. Louis Automobile Bridge, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Special Events Chairman Robert Kane said.
According to Kane, Santa Claus and his elves will visit children and hand out candy at the service road.
The Bay Senior High School Chorus, under direction of Peggy Tedford, will sing Christmas carols and at 5:15 p.m., Bay Mayor Larry Bennett, Waveland Mayor John Longo, and Hancock County Board of Supervisors President Alton A. (Dolph) Kellar will perform the official lighting of the Christmas Tree.
"The Chamber has chosen the Christmas Tree lighting to begin the holiday season in Hancock County. We feel the unity of the twin cities of the Bay and Waveland, along with the County, signifies the unity of us all during this holiday season," Kane said.
Kane urges the public to attend the Yuletide festivities, adding hot chocolate will be served.

and the Hancock County School Board to see if a change can be made in the severance tax law.
A bill on changes in the liability insurance law will be pre-filed by Compretta.
Under current law, if a person is involved in an automobile accident, is not at fault and doesn't receive any traffic violation for the accident, some insurance companies can increase their rate at renewal time or cancel their policy at renewal date.
The new proposal would prohibit the rate increase or cancellation if the insured was not at fault and or cited for a traffic violation.
"Several local residents asked to have this law revised, including George Dale, state insurance commissioner, who wrote a letter requesting Compretta's help."
The third bill to be pre-filed by Compretta deals with sales tax charged on interest.
"At a recent meeting with the Senior Citizens of Hancock County it was brought to my attention that some companies charge sales tax on interest. I check with the State Attorney General's office and found that there isn't a law which prohibits this," Compretta commented.
"The bill I am going to file will exclude carrying charges and interest

AG forsee court struggle over East Pearl boundary

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
Controversy surrounding the Louisiana-Mississippi state line and water flow volumes in the East and West Pearl Rivers may result in new boundaries between the two states, says Mississippi Attorney General A.F. Summers.
"I took the trip, because I wanted to familiarize myself with the flow of the East and West Pearl Rivers, their diversions, obstructions, and besides, digestion of information from maps and other sources is easier now, since I took a first-hand look at the situation," said the attorney general.

Summers made a seven-hour inspection tour of the Pearl River by boat last week.
Beginning at Walkiah Bluff on the East Pearl River, he proceeded north for two or three miles to Wilson's Slough, then returned south to Holmes Bayou.
"I took the trip, because I wanted to familiarize myself with the flow of the East and West Pearl Rivers, their diversions, obstructions, and besides, digestion of information from maps and other sources is easier now, since I took a first-hand look at the situation," said the attorney general.
The trip confirmed that several problems face Mississippi residents, because large amounts of water are diverted from Mississippi's East Pearl River into Louisiana's West Pearl River causing a shortage of water to flow into the East Pearl River.

"The East Pearl River is drying up," exclaimed Summers.
The shortage of water causes the following problems said Summers: an inadequate supply of water for towns and villages along the East Pearl River; inability to get industrial prospects; and a controversial border between Louisiana and Mississippi.
"Because less water is flowing into the East Pearl River and causing a change in the course of that river, the boundary between the states may also change," explained Summers.
"Approximately 50 percent of the water which should flow into the East Pearl River is diverted by a slough into the West Pearl, which runs into Louisiana," explained Summers.
Summers said he was shown two spots along the Pearl River during his trip where the West and East Pearl stratable skills in students. Some students have a tendency to set their own standards no higher than what is required of them. A system of automatic promotion tends to cause students to do less than their best work," Randolph explained.

"This inevitably tends to undermine the quality of education," he said.

Citizens group opposes DuPont tax exemption

By RICH ADAMS
The chairman of 'The Committee for Fair and Equal Taxes' is urging Pass Christian citizens to petition city officials to defeat a proposed school tax exemption for DuPont's DeLisle operation.
Helson Dickson of Pass Christian is spearheading the attempt to prevent the plant, scheduled for completion in 1979, from becoming exempt from all but four mills state tax.
A new state law, effective January 1, 1979, will require all industries to pay school ad valorem taxes.
Prior to the new law, industries were exempt for 10 years from paying school taxes and only paid a four-mill state tax.
Under the new legislation, an industry may still be exempt from the additional taxes if a statement from the city or county in which the plant is being built is obtained saying the industry was in negotiation with that city or county prior to January 1, 1979.
DuPont officials approached Pass Christian Mayor Zach Anthony in October, discussing at several meetings the possibility of partial tax exemption, Mayor Anthony said Wednesday.
According to Anthony, the company did not officially request the exemptions in the form of a resolution to the Board of Aldermen until a meeting Nov. 7.

At a recess meeting of the City's Board of Aldermen Nov. 21, Dickson voiced his disapproval of granting DuPont the exemption.
He has placed a supply of leaflets at many business establishments in Pass Christian, asking citizens to protest the proposed resolution granting exemption.

Authority confirms Bay arson

The Waveland Oyster Reef will be open for tonging Dec. 1 at sunrise announces Marine Conservation Commission Assistant Director Dennis Chew.

The oyster season will close April 30, 1979.

"Fishermen will be limited to six barrels of oysters per boat," says Chew.

The Marine Conservation Commission opened the oyster reefs of Pass Christian and Bay St. Louis Oct. 2, which is two months earlier than the opening in Waveland, added Chew.

Waveland resident and commission member Ducre Bourgeois explained, "I made the motion for the two month delay, which the commission approved, because there is too much salt in the water causing not enough meat to develop in the shell of the oysters."

"Besides," Bourgeois continued, "there were enough places to catch oysters, and I wanted to make sure we would have enough oysters during the Christmas season."

Bourgeois said there will be fewer oysters on the Waveland Oyster Reef in contrast to last year's oyster season, because the Waveland reef was closed for three years prior to the opening of last year's oyster season.

There were approximately 100 boats a day out collecting oysters last season, said Bourgeois.

Licenses will be required for fishermen who wish to gather oysters, said Chew.

There are five different kinds of oyster licenses, all of which are dependent on the size of boat used in collection, said Chew.

Licenses may be obtained from the Mississippi Conservation Commission and seafood inspectors.

Chew said he would like to emphasize that the time limit for dredging in the St. Joseph River has been extended to Jan. 15.

Dredging in the river was opened Nov. 15 and supposed to cease on Dec. 15, but the commission decided to extend the deadline, added Chew.

last Wednesday's fire at the Bay Gymnasium which began approximately 7:30 a.m. and was put out shortly after Bay St. Louis Fireman received a call notifying them of the fire.

"The fire was an arson, because there was a trail of an inflammable liquid found in the Gymnasium, and that constitutes arson," said Cowart.

Bay St. Louis Fire Department Chief Richard Fayard speculated after the Nov. 22 fire that a large lighted candle connected to a students notebook by a trail of a flammable liquid was the cause of the fire on the 'home side' of the Gymnasium.

Cowart was assisted in his investigation by the Bay St. Louis Fire and Police Departments and Bay High School Assistant Principal Frank Ladner.

Ladner said he is glad the fire was put out in time, and he will cooperate with city and state officials in their investigation.

Cowart also spoke to Ernestine Betts, a worker at the school, who reported the fire.

Betts told Cowart, "This girl came running out of the Gym, saying fire; I went to see, but I couldn't because the smoke was too bad."

"I told these two boys about 14 years old to run and go call Mr. Magee. They called the fire department and then they returned and poured some water on the flames and came back and said the floor was still on fire. Just then, the fire department came and the boys and I let them in through the back door."

Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams said, "The department has not come up with anything yet in the arson case, but we'll continue the investigation until we get results."

Four gridiron specialists from Pass Christian were on the all-star team, three from St. Stanislaus, and two from Bay High.

Pass Christian quarterback Virgil Swanier, end Robert Bailey, and runningbacks Mackie Dedeaux and Gene Lang were the coach's picks for the squad from across the Bay.

Pass head coach Bob Lumpkin led his squad to an 8-2 season record, earning them a berth in the Pickle Bowl in Perkinston.

The Pirates lost the bowl contest to Waynesboro 25-20. St. Stanislaus ends Fred Keel and Jamie McKeough earned positions on the All-Conference team, along with Rock-A-Chaw signal caller Peter Bernheim.

The Rocks, led by head coach Bill Poole, ended the season with a 6-4 tally. Bay High quarterback Dwayne Lafontaine and guard Kevin Farve were on the conference list to round out the local talent.

Billy Rhodes' Tigers registered a conference 1-9 record.

Given honorable mention by the conference were Bay High's tackle Gene Hitchcock, defensive back Mark Hardee, and guard Daniel Edwards.

Rocks on the honorable mention list were defensive back Randy Santa Cruz, tackle Keith Farve, and runningback Scott Senner.

Pirate guard Arnold Dedeaux, tackle Mike Wittman, and end C. J. Bowser also earned a spot on the mention list.

Local men bag 30 trout at L.

A. C. Mercier of Bay St. Louis and two fishing mates had "one mighty beautiful catch" at Bayou Lacroix Saturday, pulling in 30 green trout from the bayou waters.

Phillip and Dick Davenport of Hattiesburg joined Mercier last week and went fishing in the Bayou in a small rowboat.

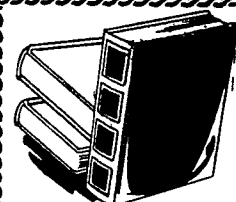

Using live shrimp as bait, the three pulled in 30 green trout in a day's time.

"My wife cooked them up," Mercier said. "I never ate anything so good...tasted just like oysters," he added.

You can help and also enjoy yourself!

Tonight the Bay St. Louis Police department will sponsor "A Salute to Elvis" at the National Guard Armory at 8 p.m.

Charlie Raye, Elvis impersonator is star of the concert and the Lincoln County group is co-starring.

You can take your family out and enjoy some real good entertainment and at the same time help the Bay St. Louis Police Department accumulate some money for its Policemen's Fund which is used for those little extras not supplied by the City.

These little extras do not include uniforms as some believe. The City supplies uniform allowances.

We know there are a lot of Elvis fans still around, and this show should bring back some good memories of the King of Rock and Roll.

Tickets are available at the Bay St. Louis police station and from individual officers, and we are sure if you don't have a ticket, you can get one at the door. Admission is $1.75 for students and children and $3.50 for adults.

We hope you will be there tonight!

If your're wondering what they are!

Saturday afternoon, everyone wanting to find out what a "Jaws of Life" is can do so at a demonstration of the much-needed emergency room rescue equipment.

The demonstration is scheduled for 2 p.m. at Our Shopping Center in Waveland. You will be able to view first hand the many jobs an emergency crew can do with such an important piece of equipment.

The demonstration will be done on several junk cars, so you can see first hand, how much such equipment is needed in Hancock County.

Lives could very easily be saved if our emergency people had such equipment.

If you need more information before you make your donation to such a worthy cause, try to see the demonstration yourself. Hope to see you there.

"The most tragic thing of all is that students promoted without skills either drop out of school or are graduated totally unprepared," Randolph added.

A discussion on social promotions developed after Board Member Monvel Cuevas questioned the necessity of the policy, saying teachers already should know if a child passes a grade or not.

Randolph explained the guidelines laid out in the policy take the burden of decision from a teacher.

"Advancement should be based on the rate of achievement of a student," Randolph said.

"Social promotion is not limited to Hancock County, but is nationwide. If a child is socially promoted, he cannot perform in upper grades...this hurts the student. The only way to help the student is to hold him back," he continued.

"The teachers will not be pressured to pass the student by peer pressure from parents or the principal of the school. Advancement will be at the teacher's discretion," Randolph added.

Cuevas asked if the new practice will affect students in higher grades. "If we adopt a blanket policy, what about students in upper classes...if they cannot perform, will we keep them in tenth grade," Cuevas asked.

Randolph explained the policy would only affect those students in elementary school in grades one through four.

Board member Louis Ladner suggested the policy be revised each year for the next eight years to include one more grade each year until the provisions for retention covered all grades up to and including the twelfth grade.

"What if a child is retained for two years in a row," asked Banks.

Board President Ladner said the child would probably be placed in special education programs.

"The child would be given special individual tutoring to allow more time for him to develop skills through individual teaching," Randolph said later.

Hancock North Central Principal Thad Haskins said the first four years of a child's education are the best years for retention.

The board unanimously adopted the policy.

"This is the fourth time I have taken a promotion and retention policy before the board...I just kept on pressing. We needed the policy," Randolph said.

"The practice of social promotion began in the early 60's with the social movement, brought about by the Supreme Court during the Kennedy and Johnson years of social movements," he explained.

"We cannot continue sending students into society totally unprepared for the demands of adult life in this technical, industrial age," Randolph added.

to send to the Pass Christian officials opposing the resolution, the Committee for Fair and Equal Taxes contends the resolution is "an attempt to escape (DuPont's) fair share of taxes."

"DuPont is one of the richest corporations in the world and if you agree with the Committee for Fair and Equal Taxes, ...deliver this to the office of the mayor of Pass Christian," the leaflet says.

"If citizens are in opposition to the exemption, send these slips to the mayor's office before Dec. 5," said Dickson.

Dickson said he has received some 50 signatures supporting his efforts, and has "not experienced a nickle's worth of opposition" from citizens to his attempt to squash the proposed exemption.

DuPont's proposal calls for exemption, but the corporation has agreed to pay the city $100,000 a year to compensate the taxes, which Dickson said is about 10 percent of what the company would normally pay in taxes.

"DuPont wants to be granted an all but 10 percent tax exemption. If they are granted the exemption, I feel we should be granted exemption also. I can name at least 100 people lying along the beach with no children, in school who are paying high taxes," Dickson said.

"DuPont's lawyer Larry Miller presented their resolution to the Board Nov. 21, and the resolution reads, 'Whereas, the mayor and aldermen of the city of Pass Christian have been in negotiation with the A. I. DuPont Corporation for some time...' This is a blatant misrepresentation. DuPont has been in negotiations with the city, not the city with them," Dickson continued.

"Some time ago, news media quoted a spokesman for DuPont as saying the industry's entry into the Pass Christian and Harrison County tax aspect would cause millage to go down," he added.

Dickson said he is not conducting a door-to-door canvass in an attempt to obtain signatures on the issue.

"I could go from door-to-door 12 hours a day and get a 95 percent response. I feel with no door-to-door canvass, no real work, the Board will get a better idea of how the public feels," Dickson said.

Mayor Anthony said DuPont introduced the resolution to the Board "out of the blue."

"DuPont has been discussing the issue with the school district and we have been doing some investigations into how this would affect the budget of our school district. We are just trying to find out what this is all about," Anthony said Wednesday.

invalid ballot markings that would cause the bond issue not to pass, said Benvenuti.

Japanese given

OK on Gulf fishing rights

Japanese fishermen have received longline fishing rights in the Gulf of Mexico off Hancock County from the U.S. Commerce Department.

The Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council said a total of 86 Japanese longline fishing applications have been approved by the Secretary of Commerce, and the applications have been sent to the fishery council for approval.

The Secretary's approval of the Japanese fishing applications in the Gulf of Mexico comes five months after the fishery management organization attempted to curb the number of foreign boats fishing in the Gulf.

In June, the council set restrictions on total weight of allowable catch for Cuban vessels shark fishing in the Gulf of Mexico.

The council feared the foreigner's fish harvests would have an adverse impact on the domestic fish industry.

The council was particularly concerned with the effect of Cuban shark fishing on other species, such as red snapper.

An apparent loss of billfish to longline fishing vessels has prompted the council to recommend to the Commerce Department a limitation of the number of boats in the Gulf.

The management council agreed to recommend the number of Japanese longline vessels fishing in the Gulf of Mexico at any time be limited to 20 vessels.

third contention is valid."

"Jones third contention states the bond election wasn't conducted according to the Mississippi Code's election section."

"The mistake of not publishing the election at the proper time was a procedural error," reiterated Gex.

"I want to make it clear that there are no ill feelings between the board of supervisors and the Hancock County School Board," added Gex.

"In the Nov. 7 election, 1,681 people voted for the school bond issue and 1,124 against in the unofficial count," said Benvenuti.

"The official count showed 1,683 for and 1,121 against, passing the school bond issue by the required 60 percent."

Benvenuti, "that considering invalid or illegal ballot markings, the count in the bond issue is 1,572 for and 1,104 against, which causes the bond issue to fail."

"But using Jones' criteria for determining invalid or illegal ballot markings," asserted Benvenuti, "I found 1,683 for and 1,009 against, thus giving the bond election enough votes to pass."

Rivers connect, and at these spots, water is diverted from the East Pearl into the West Pearl.

The spots were Wilson's Slough and Holmes Bayou.

"At both places along the Pearl River, I saw pilings which might indicate a dam or something serving that purpose," said Summer.

"Those structures might have been built there causing the water to flow into Louisiana's West Pearl River instead of flowing into Mississippi's East Pearl," he surmised.

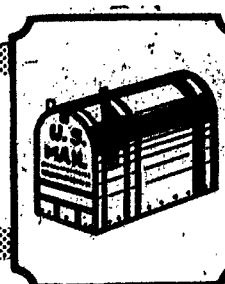

Summer added the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers was probably responsible for building the structures, and the corps may have a record of such construction.

A group of Picayune residents have asked Louisiana officials to allow more water to flow into the East Pearl, but the officials say they can't do anything about it some authority in Washington will have to decide that," stated the attorney general.

Summer said he spoke to several residents along the river who knew of a dam being constructed in Holmes Bayou prior to the Civil War.

Open Letter

James Travirca

Dear Sir:

In recent issues of the Sea Coast Echo, a paid classified advertisement states that James N. Travirca Sr. of 102 E. Meadow Lane, Waveland, "is not responsible for debts contracted by anyone other than himself."

A great deal of confusion has resulted from this Notice because many citizens are under the erroneous impression the person published the Notice is Hancock County Beat Five Supervisor James N. Travirca, and that the Supervisor is having marital difficulties and had moved out of his Beat.

Because of these erroneous impressions, many people have been calling my home to express their concern.

That advertisement was not published by Supervisor James N. Travirca.

I, Supervisor James N. Travirca am still living at my domicile on the Kila-Pass Christian Road in the Fenton Community.

However, I appreciate the concern of our many friends.

A letter to Santa

For Christmas, 1978

Dear Santa Claus:

Those of us who live in and love Hancock County would, first of all, thank you for gifts given so generously in past years. We just hope you'll bring us more of the same.

To begin with: We like the climate. Please give us for the coming year a generous supply of Deep South mildness in temperature. We really prefer a Green Christmas to a White one.

Bring us just enough frost to sweeten the ground for next year's spring flowers. Bring us just enough cold that we may mark the change of season. Nippy days sharpen our appetites for tangy foods and hot drinks.

Cooler days also bring about a renewed interest in clothing and grooming.

We are growing, as you know, at an estimated ten per cent population increase yearly. This is good. Continue to bring us our fair share of those interesting new comers who broaden our vision.

We have lived here with our natural resources and potentials until we often take these blessings for granted. Until we see them through new curious and resourceful eyes.

Pre-filed...

from having sales tax levied," Compretta added. "I think it isn't fair to charge sales tax on interest," he said.

To get some input from their constituents, Compretta said he and State Senator Martin Smith are going to hold open meetings throughout the County as they have conducted in previous years prior to legislative sessions in January.

Compretta said he is also working on several other important bills for pre-filing in January.

"Later, the corps did quite a bit of work along the Pearl River to provide navigable streams for steamboats," recalled Summer.

"Some of the diversions may be man-made and others created by nature, but that is one of the many questions that must be answered," said Summer.

Another question which must be answered is who caused the man-made diversions, if there are any?

"Probably the corps," says Summer.

Other unanswered questions include: Is there a solution that will get more water into the East Pearl River? Will a law suit be necessary to get water to flow into the East Pearl? Which state will get an area of land highly suitable for industrial development, but lying between the rivers?

And finally, if the original body of the East Pearl River has changed course from when it was admitted to the Union, then will the boundary line between Mississippi and Louisiana also change, due to the fact that the East Pearl River is the existing legal boundary between the states below the 32nd parallel.

Bring us some challenges and missions and motivations. The ones you brought last year were good, the puzzle about better schools is appreciated and its getting a trifle worn, and the drainage puzzle is nearer being solved. Puzzles are always good to develop our imagination, ingenuity and creativity - and persistence.

Please bring us continued progress with our library system. Our people, at their own pace, are enjoying an appreciation of the arts, and our library system has advanced our fund of knowledge in many directions.

Bring us some quiet moments to think things through...the art of photography...the pleasures in living in a coastal community where we may fish, boat, participate in water sports or simply sit and watch the cloud formations as they change the colors of waters in bays and bayous.

And bring us something to hope for...bring us realization of an impossible dream. Not this year, but soon bring us a small, but really good museum.

And have a Happy Day. You will anyway because we're told you have relocated and moved from the North Pole down to Hancock County.

Fondly,
Joe Pilet

City services appreciated

Dear Sir:

The services of the Utilities Department, Street Maintenance and Sanitation Departments, and excellent cooperation from the Office of the Mayor combined to make my recently completed construction project an easier task than I had expected.

School dockets public by law

November 25, 1978

To The Editor
Dear Sir:

The Superintendent of Education in the Bay St. Louis School District has escaped compliance with the law for many years regarding furnishings monthly financial statements to the city clerk. And he almost escaped again at the Nov. 21 meeting of the City Council.

In a close 3-2 vote, the council "requested" Superintendent J.D. McCulloch abide by Section 37-7-633 of the Mississippi Code. But Councilmen Fred Wagner and Wilmer Seymour voted against the motion.

Can the positions held by Seymour (councilman-at-large and athletic director for the school system) and Wagner (councilman and architect for the same system) possibly be conflicting? Can their jobs with the School System so color their thinking as councilmen that they do not see fit to make Mr. McCulloch comply with the law?

But the issue nor the thinking should be colored. The law is down in black and white. Should it be obeyed or ignored? Do any of us have a choice or even a "Vote"?

It is most frustrating that the problem has persisted as long as it has. For 17 months the present administration has been trying to secure financial reports from the Superintendent.

Time after time they have requested these statements only to be ignored or delayed. Finally, the majority of the council can expect some results. Thank goodness majority rule has not been changed in Bay St. Louis.

But results will come only if taxpayers insist on the accountability of the School System's $2.4 million operation. The biggest business in the city.

These are our tax dollars. And we have a right to demand, not "request", but demand to know how they are being spent. It matters not whether this money is local, state, or Federal; it all comes out of our pockets just the same. Just like charity begins at home, tax revolts can too!

Come on gentlemen, we're already some 20 years behind. We have the ball rolling in the right direction now. Let's not drop it!

Thank you, sir, for allowing me to express my views on what I consider to be a serious matter in our local government.

Sincerely,
Mrs. F.F. Holland, Jr.

FBI adds fugitive to most wanted list

CHARLES EVERETT HUGHES

FBI Director William H. Webster announced this week that Charles Everett Hughes, 33, has been added to the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" list for unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for murder and intent to distribute a controlled substance.

Hughes is wanted for three counts of first degree murder for the execution-style killing of one adult and two teenage sisters, ages 14 and 16, and one count of third degree murder in connection with the shooting death of one additional adult.

The murders occurred on or about January 23, 1977, when the victims apparently unwarnedly interrupted a large-scale marijuana smuggling operation where 35 tons of marijuana, with a street value of $1.2 million dollars, were being unloaded. The smuggling operation took place in a remote seacoast area of Bay County, Fla. The bodies of the four victims, which had been weighted with concrete blocks and dropped into a sinkhole, were discovered in August, 1977, 100 miles away.

Hughes, known to be a motorcycle enthusiast, has worked as a fork lift operator, construction worker, and as a horse trainer. He also is an experienced auto and motorcycle mechanic and has used Social Security Number 292-40-4608.

Hughes, who is known to wear a full beard, has tattooed the name "Dave" on his left arm and "Diane" on his upper left shoulder. Both of his legs are badly scarred from a childhood fire accident.

A native of Warren County, Ohio, Hughes was born on January 23, 1945. He is a white male, five feet, six inches tall, weighs approximately 160 to 180 pounds, has a stocky build, brown hair, and hazel eyes (sometimes referred to as blue-green or brown).

Hughes's wife, Marilyn, who is his constant traveling companion, is white, five feet, nine inches tall, weighs 150 pounds, has a medium build, dark brown hair and wears wire-rimmed glasses. She has worked as a hairdresser.

Hughes should be considered armed and extremely dangerous. Anyone with information concerning Hughes should take no action other than to contact the nearest office of the FBI, the telephone number of which may be found on the first page of most telephone directories.

Versatile winter squash adds nutritious highlight

Versatile winter squash adds a nutritious highlight to menus, especially during cold-weather months when it is abundant with appealing prices.

"Acorn and butternut squash are economical sources of vitamins A and C, important jobs," reminds Ann Rushing, marketing specialist, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

"Vitamin A is necessary for vision, and it influences tooth development. Vitamin C is not stored in the body, so it is necessary to eat food with vitamin C daily to keep tissues healthy and to help the body resist infection," explains

Mrs. Rushing. "So, learn to buy and use winter squash for maximum benefits."

In buying winter squash, look for an even color and a very firm surface. Acorn squash starts turning yellow or orange as it ages. Look for a solid green exterior to assure freshness and high quality.

Store squash in a cool, dry place. Refrigeration is not necessary.

Preparing winter squash is easy, but acorn squash needs caution in cutting. When splitting the squash to remove the seeds, make certain that fingers and hands are away from the knife blade. Since the flesh and outer covering of acorn squash is very hard, apply heavy pressure to cut through the squash. Cutting care is important when handling this type of squash.

To prepare butternut squash, simply peel and dice it.

For best cooking results, bake acorn squash with the cut side down in a shallow pan filled with about one inch of water. Medium-sized squash cooks in about 30 minutes at 400 degrees.

To cook diced butternut squash, simmer it in a saucepan with a small amount of water for 15 to 20 minutes.

For a special menu treat, try winter squash in main-dish, side-dish or dessert recipes.

Ag Affairs

SCARE CAMPAIGN ENDS

By ED BLAKE

AG Affairs

A scare campaign concerning after effects of dairy feed contamination in Michigan has finally ended after five years of legal controversy during which time $40 million in damages were paid by a feed manufacturing company on 670 claims.

Judge William R. Peterson has dismissed all claims against the feed company in a 155 page decision that held that the plaintiffs' proof fell "shockingly short of their claims."

The legal hassle all began after a May, 1973, incident in which a toxic fire retardant, polybrominated biphenyl (PBB) manufactured by Michigan Chemical Company was accidentally mixed with livestock feed distributed by Michigan Farm Bureau Services Incorporated.

Subsequently area dairy cattle which were fed the feed became ill and farmers, the public, governmental officials, and the news media over-reacted to the possibility of a hazard to human health to the end that entire herds of cattle were slaughtered with the carcasses buried in clay-lined pits. The state of Michigan enacted a law banning the sale of goods with even slight traces of the chemical, imposing limits far more strict than federal standards.

Probably no other agricultural contamination story has received a fraction of the publicity which has surrounded this incident. Like a whirlwind the story got bigger and bigger and circulated higher and higher. It was still getting bigger and drawing even greater news space up to the recent release of Judge Peterson's greatly detailed decision.

The judge heard 63 witnesses in accruing a trial transcript of 25,000 pages. An estimated 70,000 pages of exhibits were received in evidence, and an uncounted number of more were marked and discussed.

In his findings, Judge Peterson said: "The claims of plaintiffs that defendants have been guilty of criminal concealment, gross neglect misrepresentation and or working a cover-up with governmental authorities, have not only been unproved but appear to be flagrantly irresponsible in view of the proofs to the contrary."

He found that only a few of the Tacoma animals has consumed any PBB and that the small amounts consumed were not harmful or toxic to them. He also found that the plaintiffs did not offer "a shred of credible evidence" to support their claims that the defendants acted "willfully and wantonly," and that there was no substance to the charge that Farm Bureau Services "did recycle and deliberately sold contaminated feed."

In fact, the judge ruled, the Farm Bureau service company had destroyed enormous quantities of feed that could have been lawfully and safely sold.

The judge's decision cleared the air rather forcefully as he pointed out that feeding experiments seem to prove that PBB is relatively nontoxic. It would, according to a Dr. Moorhead (involved in the experiments on toxicity) rank in a table of relative toxicity of compounds in the "slightly toxic" category along with common table salt.

The whole issue was terribly ill conceived and tragic. It was horrendously, financially damaging to two Michigan businesses and the scare put before the public by the press certainly is damaging to the credibility of the news media.

And unfortunately, the incident was not without precedent. The chemical scare bit began in agriculture back in 1958 when the government issued false warnings over possible contamination of cranberries - an action which brought disaster to New England cranberry growers that year before the truth came into focus.

While modern agriculture has brought better health and great longevity to all humanity, we still have the "Doomsday" prophets with us who would scuttle us all that may be on a collision course with some of their false claims.

MUDDY WATERS

Public television's "Soundstage" series highlights the best of its past in a fifth anniversary special at 6 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 9, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

The special, hosted by Harry Chapin, follows the history of "Soundstage" from its very first production, "A Tribute to Muddy Waters," to the current season, which premiered with Leo Sayer. Benny Goodman had never heard of George Benson before they appeared on "Soundstage" and played "Seven Come Eleven." After that session, he called Benson to record with him in New York. Dion wrote "The Queen of '59" exclusively for his "Soundstage" performance with Phil Everly. The song became a hit after the two later recorded the song for Dion's next album. Other combinations have included David Bromberg with Phoebe Snow, Melissa Manchester with Al Jarreau, Judy Collins with Leonard Cohen, and Blood Sweat and Tears with Janis Ian. "Fiddlers Three" was an unusual musical experiment with three violin masters: Itzhak Perlman, a classicist; Jean-Luc Ponty, a jazz rock virtuoso; and Doug Kershaw, a country rocker.

THEY THINK THEY SEE SOMETHING—"Monty Python and the Holy Grail," described by Time magazine as being "as funny as a movie can get," will be presented on PBS Cinema Showcase at 9 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 9, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

GOOD MORNIN' BLUES—Mississippi ETV's "Good Mornin' Blues" will be rebroadcast on the Public Broadcasting Service (PBS), including Mississippi ETV, at 8 p.m., Thursday, December 7. "Good Mornin' Blues" is a 60-minute documentary film about Mississippi blues music from its earliest origins at the turn of the century until World War II. Narrated by Mississippi-born B. B. King, the program features the music of 18 Mississippi blues musicians, including Houston Stackhouse, Big Joe Williams, Furry Lewis, Sam Chatmon and Memphis Ma Rainey. The program explores the Mississippi Delta roots of country blues music, which provided the basis for rhythm and blues, rock and roll, soul and much of modern music today.

PUBLIC NOTICE
This public hearing will be conducted to receive citizen input on the type of project for which Bay St. Louis will prepare its 1979 pre-application. At the time of the public hearing those people attending will be provided with a list of the activities which are eligible for funding under this program. A list of these activities may also be obtained at City Hall December 11th through December 15th. The funds available to Bay St. Louis for the fiscal year are $356,000 for the Comprehensive Program and $799,000 for the Single Purpose Program. It should be noted that pre-applications from the State will exceed the amount of funds available and, therefore, submission of a Community Development application is no guarantee of funding. Citizen input is critical in this stage and through emphasis cannot be placed upon obtaining public opinion. Not only the public but all interested agencies are urged to attend and make any comments or suggestions that they feel vital to this program.

State's unmilled rice first for U.S. export

The first export sale of unmilled rice ever made from the United States has been shipped from Greenville, said John Delhoussaye, general manager of Mississippi Growers Association.

"Although Mississippi has supplied milled rice for export shipment for many years, this is the first time paddy rice, also called rough rice, has been sold into the export market," Delhoussaye said, "with the exception of some bagged rough rice shipped to other countries as seed rice."

The shipment, totaling 220,000 bushels, or about 4500 metric tons, was loaded on barges in bulk at the Bunge Company elevator in Greenville. Five barges were needed to handle the shipment, he said.

Commissioner Jim Buck Ross, Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce, termed the sale, "Another encouraging breakthrough in the establishment of additional foreign markets for Mississippi agricultural products."

Ross offered his congratulations to the Mississippi Rice Growers Association stating that, "Sales like this can trigger the overseas movement of rice to an even larger scale and enhance greater production from an increasing acreage in Mississippi."

The rice was barged to New Orleans where it will be loaded aboard an ocean going vessel for travel to its final destination in Europe.

"Sale of the rice was handled through a Houston, Texas, brokerage firm and calls for U.S. grade 2, long grain rice," Delhoussaye said. Delhoussaye said this rough rice shipment will be followed immediately by another shipment of 1,200 metric tons, about 50,000 bushels, of the same quality and type of rough rice for November loading to Europe.

Sold through the same firm, the second shipment will be barged from Helena, Arkansas to New Orleans for loading on to an ocean going vessel.

Mississippi growers are expected to produce about 17 million bushels of rice this year with a value of about $67 million, compared with less than nine million bushels valued at about $38 million in 1977, according to Delhoussaye.

Book Review

By Hart Shorn

Bay St. Louis

Bantam Books this week announced plans to publish Dec. 3 'The Suicide Cult.'

Bantam is billing the work as 'The Untold Story of the People's Temple Sect and the Massacre in Guyana by San Francisco Chronicle correspondents Marshall Kilduff and Ron Javers who have been investigating the People's Temple story for over two years.

Javers was also an eyewitness at the recent airport ambush where he was wounded.

The manuscript was due in New York Monday. The book will be published immediately and finished books are expected to be in full distribution beginning Dec. 3.

"The book will contain a substantial amount of new and exclusive material," said Bantam president and editor-in-chief Marc Jaffe. He described 'The Suicide Cult' as "an in-depth, behind-the-scenes account of the origins, rise, practices and fate of the mysterious California cult led by the Rev. Jim Jones."

The book will include an eyewitness account by Javers of what actually happened at the airstrip ambush as well as in-depth interviews with cult members, families who relatives were members of the fear-controlled sect, and cult members who left the Guyana settlement prior to the massacre.

The book will also explore development of the People's Temple from its origins in the Midwest and its movement first to northern California, then to Guyana.

INEPT SHERLOCK?

The grandson of Sherlock Holmes is to lay plans for the capture of arch criminal Moriarty in "The Strange Case of the End of Civilization As We Know It," the spine-chilling story of how civilization came to an end in 1975 and no one noticed. The special program can be seen at 8 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 9, on the Mississippi ETV Network. Unlike his illustrious grandfather, this Sherlock Holmes (John Cleese of Monty Python fame) succeeds only in botching every job he organizes.

PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Two educators from Hattiesburg are Jack, Schweitzer's guest on Mississippi ETV's "The People's Business" at 1:30 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 10. Discussing community education will be Dr. James McPhail, chairman of the department of educational administration at the University of Southern Mississippi, and Dr. William Herlihy, director of the Center for Community Education in Hattiesburg.

Gainsville, 1845: watered milk and attorneys who advertise

A copy of the Gainesville Advocate dated June 17, 1845, was sent to me by H. V. Henley who lived in Eureka, California until his death.

Gainesville was the county seat of Hancock County in 1845 and a thriving town of something like 2,000 people.

An old clipping I have of somewhere near that time listed Gainesville, Biloxi and Pearlton as the principal towns in south Mississippi.

It is interesting to read the ads and the news in this old paper. There were no display ads such as we find in newspapers today.

There was a sort notice of "New Arrangements." The new and substantial steamer IRENE; W.M.S. Huston, Master, will continue to run as a tri-weekly Packet between Gainesville and New Orleans leaving Gainesville every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, returning Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. For Freight or passage, apply to the Captain on board or to Sherwood, Harper & Co. in Gainesville.

The steamship Mad Anthony ran regularly between New Orleans and Gainesville.

Other ads advertised steamboat service as high up on the river as Georgetown. In this old paper were ads by drygoods stores and general stores. There were several ads by Commission and Forwarding Merchants.

These merchants must have taken produce from the people living in the area and shipped it to New Orleans for sale on a commission basis. There were other ads by receiving and forwarding merchants.

Fort & Wilcox advertised themselves as Cotton Factors, which I suppose meant handling cotton grown in the area.

A firm of lawyers had their professional card in the paper. There were numerous ads for patent medicines - one saying "PURIFY THE BLOOD WITH Moffatts Vegetable Life Pills and Phoenix Bitters" which were guaranteed to cure many ills, among them Dyspepsia, Liver ailments, the Ague, general debility, piles, rheumatism.

Those living in what are now Pearl River and Hancock Counties and even on up into Marion and Lawrence counties went to Gainesville to catch a boat to New Orleans.

A statement from the postmaster said, "The northern mail via Columbia, Riceville, and Hoblochitto, (now Picayune) arrives every Sunday evening by 5 o'clock and departs for New Orleans and Mobile via Pearlton and Pass Christian the same evening. The New Orleans and Mobile mail arrives every Wednesday morning on the return North by 11 o'clock."

W. H. (Harvey) Burks told me that an uncle of his carried the mail from Gainesville to Columbia once a week for many years before the railway came through. It is interesting to note that for a long time mail for Columbia, Monticello and Georgetown was carried on horseback from Gainesville once a week.

In this old paper there were market reports quoting cotton at from six cents to nine cents depending on the grade.

Bacon was quoted at six cents to seven cents, coffee six cents to seven cents, various other commodities also.

There were quotations from the New Orleans Money Market naming the exchange rates with England, dealings in sovereigns, Spanish doubloons and Mexican dollars. Discount rates of New Orleans banks were printed in this old paper.

The Gainesville Advocate had agents in Columbia, Monticello, Holmesville, Shieldsboro and Hoblochitto, now known as Picayune.

Three candidates for district attorney for the counties of Copiah, Lawrence, Pike, Marion, Hancock, Simpson, Covington, Harrison, Smith, Rankin and Scott had their announcements in this old paper (O. F. McCarty of Monticello, B. Bacon of Columbia and S. A. Matthews of Holmesville.)

The editor placed this note just under the announcement. "It is with great reluctance we are necessitated to refer candidates to our terms which are to be found on the first column of first page of the Advocate (Said terms: CASH in advance.)

Surprisingly, there is very little local news in this old paper, most of the news being from far away and evidently copied from other papers.

Here is one interesting news story copied from a New Orleans paper: "By the arrival this morning of the Steamer IRENE we received intelligence of the melancholy demise of General Andrew Jackson. We copy the following from the Crescent City yesterday: "The steamboat Yorktown arrived at our landing yesterday with her flags at half mast. This unusual sight gave proof that something unusual had occurred. On making inquiry the Captain reported the death of General Jackson on the evening of the 8th instant."

Apparently it took 7 days from his death for the news to reach Gainesville. Now, such news would be flashed over radio and television and people would know within minutes.

Quoting at random from the old paper:

"A milk man in attempting to water his horse went out and watered his milk. He discovered his error when his customers reported there was no cream." (Sounds very up-to-date.)

"In about three months we understand that Philadelphia and New York will be within a minute of each other, the arrangement being made for laying down or setting up a magnetic telegraph being likely to be completed within that time."

"Since the hot season has set in and in fact is somewhat advanced why would it not be an excellent plan for our townsmen to take immediate steps for cleaning out and putting in order our public well? We merely make the suggestion."

In the old paper there was an ad for the Gainesville Hotel. There were at least two other hotels and boarding houses in Gainesville at that time. The ad for "the

Gainesville Hotel was as follows:

The proprietor having built an addition to his house, is now prepared to receive Boarders and accommodate Travelers, and all those who may be pleased to give him a call. His table will always be furnished with the best the market affords. His stables will be well supplied with provender and he flatters himself that by strict attention to the wants of his friends and the traveling community, to merit a liberal share of public patronage.

The terms of the Hotel are as follows, to-wit: - Board per month $9.00 Board and lodging,

CORNER PHENOMENON-Edgar Jones, sheltered by the roof of the Big 5 Club at the intersection of St. Francis and Sycamore Streets, called 'The Corner' by residents of the area, explains the social function of the spot as a "gathering place to meet friends and talk" rather than a rough section of town where thugs loiter. Local man tells reason for "The corners" popularity

By Leslie Williams
The intersection of St. Francis and Sycamore Street in Bay St. Louis, called 'The Corner' by most Bay St. Louis residents, has a reputation of being a rough area where thugs convene and create havoc.

This is not an accurate

LIZA BLAIZE POPE
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Pope of Bay St. Louis announce the birth of their third child and second daughter, Liza Blaize, November 25 at Gulfport Memorial Hospital. She weighed six pounds, 12 ounces.

Mrs. Pope is the former Inez Favre, daughter of Mrs. Inez Blaize Favre of Bay St. Louis and the late A. G. Favre Sr. Paternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Clifton Pope of Collins, Miss.

picture of 'the corner,' says Edgar Jones of 415 Sycamore Street who works for the City of Bay St. Louis.

"We always come here and sit. For years and years we've been doing this," explains Jones, sheltered from Monday's downpour of rain by the roof of the Big 5 Club.

"When we don't have anywhere else to socialize," continues Jones, "my friends and I come here and sit on 'The Corner.'"

Jones said he has frequented 'The Corner' since his arrival in Bay St. Louis 33 years ago.

"It's better than staying all day at the house with nobody to talk to. If I had a wife I guess I wouldn't need to go on 'The Corner,' but then again, she probably couldn't be home. She would probably have to work," explained Jones.

"I find company, laughter and someone to talk to when I go on 'The Corner,'" says Jones. "My friends and I spend about eight hours on 'the corner' after work."

"Everybody is nice around here-it's a place for us to meet, that's all."

News from the Church of St. Ann

A thought for the day from the library of Father Canisius Hayes, pastor of St. Ann's Parish-

If we learn how to give of ourselves, to forgive others, and to live with thanksgiving, we need not seek happiness-it will seek us... some people give and forgive; others get and forget.

Students preparing for the Sacrament of Confirmation will make their Faith commitment to the parish during 9:15 a.m. Mass Sunday, November 26. Religious instructions for the group will follow Mass.

Confirmation students participating in the Liturgy over the weekend were Karen Ladner, Rachel Schmitt, Lynel Lucy Ladner, Joseph, Angela Greco, Michael Anthony Shubert, Dawn Lusich, and Theresa Greco.

St. Ann's Altar Society met November 14 in parish hall with Mrs. Davis Caillier, president, presiding.

Election of officers for the coming year was postponed until the January meeting.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. December 12 in parish hall.

Bay School District parents aid learning

Many children in the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District are receiving additional help from their parents in reading and math under Title I programs, reported Betty Ann Jones, instructional supervisor.

Diamondhead Garden Club plans contest

"Wild Flowers of the South" were discussed at the Diamondhead Garden Club meeting at the Sales Lodge November 15 with Mrs. Joseph Finley, president, presiding.

Mrs. William Grace of New Orleans headed the program. Plans are underway for a Christmas Party to be held in the home of Mrs. Luther Grace.

Christmas best doorway and outside decorations judging will be December 15.

Mrs. Clarence Evans, flower show chairman, said the schedule for the April 27 Flower Show will be prepared by Mrs. Dan M. Russell Jr.

After adjournment, luncheon was held in Mrs. Joseph Finley's new home at Diamondhead.

Some parents with children in grades one through three attended a Parent Involvement Workshop Wednesday at Waveland Elementary School.

Today, parents from North Bay School are attending a similar workshop.

Ms. Jones, who guides Title I progress in the district, explained how children are selected for Title I and how the funds are used in each school to help children with reading and math.

Criterion Reference Test results, which pinpoint areas in reading and math where the child needs additional help, are presented to parents in the workshops.

"Parents Are Teachers," a book received by the parents, describes activities and games in reading and math.

Teachers in grades one through three demonstrated activities in reading and math that can be conducted using items found around the home.

Sewing skills enhance quality of lingerie gifts

By using sewing skills to make lingerie for gifts, seamstresses save money, and add a personal touch.

"A variety of patterns and fabrics are available," says Marguerite Davis, clothing specialist, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

"With trims in the form of laces, appliques and ribbons, you can add your own touch. Elastics can also be used as a decorative part of the garment," she adds.

Fabrics for slips, panties, gowns and peignoirs should be soft and light. Nylon tricot has been the most popular fabric used for making lingerie.

But don't overlook the possibilities of cotton and cotton blends in gingham, challis or other soft fabrics with a permanent press finish, suggests the specialist.

Nylon fleece and quilted fabrics, in both synthetics and cotton, make lovely robes. Coordinated prints in flared and quilted fabrics would make delightful gown and robe sets.

Bedroom scuffs to match gown and robe sets, often expensive, can be easily made from scraps of lingerie fabrics. Use foam or fiberfill on the soles, and toe section of the scuffs.

"Delight a member of your family or a friend with lingerie you've created," says Miss Davis.

Commission names new forester

The Mississippi Forestry Commission in a board meeting conducted by Vice Chairman William W. Shorter on November 15 voted unanimously to terminate the services of Billy T. Gaddis as state forester.

Named to replace Gaddis was Jack Holman of Morton who previously served as Mississippi's state forester from 1961 to 1968.

Holman received his BS degree in Forestry from LSU in 1947 and a masters in forestry from Duke University in 1948.

The new state forester was associated with the Richton Tie and Timber Company for 13 years prior to his 1961 appointment as state forester.

During his earlier seven year stint as a top administrator of the State's forestry agency Holman held a number of important regional and national committee posts in forestry.

He received the Mississippi Wildlife Federation's Governors Award for Outstanding Contribution to Forest Conservation in 1963.

Since leaving the Forestry Commission in July, 1968, Holman has been employed in forest industry and private business.

Holman, 55, is married and has three children.

No-FRILLS

Give it a try!

What have you got to lose? A few frills, that's what. Like colorful labels, fancy containers, and expensive national advertising. No-FRILLS paper products are not double ply, not scented, and not available in fancy patterns or colors, but they get the job done. No-FRILLS foods are "standard" rather than "fancy" grade, but they're wholesome, nutritious, and good-tasting. And No-FRILLS products sell for 10 to 35 per cent less than nationally advertised brands.

No-FRILLS. With prices like this, you can't lose.
